* principal player

The Caltech-Occidental Concert Band rehearses one night a week for less than two hours at each rehearsal. That the band members are able to learn a great deal of music in so short a time is a true testament to their hard work and high level of musicianship. If you would like to be on the mailing list for future concerts, or you would like to play in the ensemble, please fill out the enclosed form and hand it to an usher. You can also learn more about the band by going to the bands web site: www.music.caltech.edu/band-intro.html.

William Bing, Director of Bands at Caltech, has been teaching at Caltech for over twenty-eight years. During that time, the bands have played many premieres and performed for over ten thousand people. In addition to his work at Caltech, Bill is a busy trumpet player. Bill and his wife Delores have won many teaching awards including the ASCIT Teaching Award, Pasadena Youth Music Council Teachers of the Year, and most recently Honary Membership in the Caltech Alumni Association.

Paul Asimow is assistant professor of geology and geochemistry at Caltech. In real life, he does research on experimental melting of rocks and teaches students the delights of thermodynamics. More importantly, however, he played in and conducted the Caltech/Oxy Concert Band all through graduate school and, after a two-year postdoctoral stint playing tuba in the Columbia University Concert Band, returned to Caltech and its Band as a faculty member in 1999.

Chad Kishimoto is currently a senior at Caltech, pursuing a bachelor's degree in physics. Born and raised in Honolulu, Hawaii, he was a member of the Roosevelt High School Symphonic Wind Ensemble and Marching Band. He has also had the honor of playing in the Hula Bowl All-Star Marching Band, Hawaii Youth Symphony and Hawaii State Select Band. In the fall of 1999, Chad matriculated to Caltech where he joined the Caltech-Occidental Wind Ensemble. For the past three years, he has served as the band manager for Bill Bing and in the past year has taken on conducting duties. At Caltech, he helped to start the Caltech Pep Band and has been its musical director.

Don Gross took a 31-year break from his clarinet playing before joining the Caltech-Occidental Concert Band in 1986 and is the band's contrabass clarinet player. After having two very diverse careers as a research chemist and fund-raiser, in 1998 he returned to Glendale Community College to study music. A resident of La Canada-Flintridge, Don also plays with the Claremont Symphonic Winds, the Cal State Los Angeles Wind Ensemble, the Glendale College Community Orchestra, and the Topanga Symphony. Currently Don is a music student at Cal State Los Angeles where he studies clarinet with Helen Goode-Castro and conducting with Abel Ramirez.

Craig Countryman is a senior in chemistry at Caltech. He is originally from Punta Gorda, Florida, and in his middle school and high school years made the Florida All-State Band on both tuba and clarinet. At Caltech he has been happy to continue making music as the principal clarinetist in the Caltech Concert Band and the Caltech-Occidental Symphony Orchestra as well as in a variety of chamber music ensembles. He plans to attend law school next fall, and he is currently deciding whether to stay in the Los Angeles area or go to school back east.
